While literacy development begins long before children are of school age, the kindergarten classroom marks an important moment as students embark on their lifelong journey as writers. In the Beginning: Young Writers Develop Independence offers a close-up view of master teacher Emelie Parker's writing workshop at Bailey's Elementary School for the Arts and Sciences in Falls Church, VA, a school where nearly all students enter kindergarten as English language learners.In the Beginning captures the sights and sounds of a busy kindergarten classroom as Emelie works with her students. Viewers will observe a skillful teacher who knows how to listen, record, and tailor her instruction to writers at widely varying levels of development. We see how Emelie creates a workshop environment that nurtures her students while holding them accountable for their learning. This tape explores many of the essential teacher-student transactions that support young children as they break into print including teaching skills in context, word work, and conferring with young writers. The camera follows one student, Jesse, from start to finish in a segment that reveals how simple and powerful the publishing event can be for a child.Throughout, we see the crucial, ongoing link Emelie forges between her students' reading and their writing. In the Beginning offers a rare view inside the mind of an accomplished teacher as she makes a million moment-to-moment decisions during a hectic kindergarten day, while never losing sight of her primary goal: to help her students develop into independent writers. But getting there is no small task. With her little baby in tow, Maria hops on the bus, nervous about the journey ahead, but unwilling to let her chance to star on the popular game show, "Multicolored Casino" slip away. For Don Justo, the journey to reunite with his long-lost friend Badface promises to be even more challenging, as he hits the road, trusting that the truckers he's met through the years will stop to offer him a lift. In Roberto's case, getting to San Julián isn't the problem - it's getting there by surprise, with a heartwarming gift - hoping to make a favorable impression on his secret love. Although the three neighbors begin their journeys separately, they encounter their share of detours along the way on the deserted routes, and their stories and dreams crisscross in seemingly free-form patterns at the most remote stopping points. Islam: What the West Needs to Know. Color. 98 mins. Video Released Jul. 2007. Directed by Gregory M. Davis, Bryan Daly. Virtually every major Western leader has over the past several years expressed the view that Islam is a peaceful religion and that those who commit violence in its name are fanatics who misinterpret its tenets. This claim, while widely circulated, rarely attracts serious public examination. Through an examination of the Koran, other Islamic texts, and the example of the prophet Muhammed, this documentary argues, through a sober and methodical presentation, that violence against non-Muslims is and has always been an integral aspect of Islam. "Jihad," while best translated as "struggle," when represented in the life of Muhammad, meant organized warfare against non-believers. Relying on Islam's early texts, this documentary considers the violent, expansionary ideology within Islam that seeks the destruction or subjugation of other faiths, cultures, and systems of government. The Island: Ireland from the Air. 80 mins mins. Video Released Aug. 2005. This is a magical journey through the mythic and historical landscape of Ireland, filmed entirely from the air. Flying above the land and across the centuries, we see how Water, Earth and Stone have shaped the history and formed the character of THE ISLAND. Many of these dramatic locations have never been seen before on television or video. Here are tombs more ancient than the pyramids, startling medieval castles and mysterious 5,000 year-old stone circles. We soar like an eagle over majestic sea-cliffs, into deep valleys and alongside remote mountains. And we learn how, over time, the natural landscape has been transformed with the growth of modern Irish towns and cities.THE ISLAND features an original music score, composed by Brian Byrne and performed by the RTE concert orchestra.Narrated by Cathal O?ShannonWritten by Rob Vance and Will HarrisProduced and directed by Will HarrisExecutive Producer: Colm Crowley. Jacques Pepin Celebrates! Easter. Color. 60 mins. Video Released Jan. 2005. Jacques Pepin. In this surprise-filled celebration of Spring, Jacques and Claudine prepare a sumptuous Easter dinner for friends, starting with Caviar served with Buckwheat Blini and Frozen Vodka ? the perfect adult answer to Easter eggs. Salmon Steaks with a tangy, fresh Sorrel Sauce and delicate little cucumber balls make an easy first course. And of course, there?s lamb?in this case, spring Lamb Loins in Ambush, coated with a ground lamb and vegetable mousse, served over fresh fava beans. Jacques? Leek-and-Mushroom Pie brings just the right earthy flavors to go with the lamb. And on the side, there are Eggplant ?Cushions? garnished with lightly stewed tomatoes; and Artichoke Bottoms stuffed with brown-butter spinach, topped with a golden-brown gratin sauce. The meal ends as it began, with more grown-up Easter eggs: fluffy Caramel Snow Eggs floating in custard cream. In a classic Pepin pairing, this ethereal dessert is served with Jacques down-to-earth, old-fashioned Oatmeal Cookies dipped in sumptuous chocolate. And Jacques? classic Chicken Galantine ? a boneless chicken stuffed with pork, black mushrooms, pistachios and armagnac, poached in a rich stock and served in it?s own aspic ? might be the world?s most elegant picnic food. A succulent baked Ham Georgia with a tangy apricot-mustard glaze and a deep, sweet-savory peach sauce is an impressive do-ahead entree for a party. Jacques pairs it with a simple side dish of buttered Red Swiss Chard. For the cheese course, he shows Claudine how to make creamy fresh-herb Fromage Blanc served with roasted garlic and garnished with a beautiful coral tree. Two show-stopping desserts complete the buffet. Chocolate Cloud Cake is a spectacular layered confection, with the contrasting textures of fluffy sponge cake, cognac whipped cream, and crunchy chocolate cookie crust, all topped with a bittersweet chocolate glaze. Jalil Muntaqim: Voice of Liberation. (YA). Age: 12-UP. Non-Profit, Home. Video Released Nov. 2002. Editor Eve Goldberg. Executive Producer Claude Marks. Jalil Abdul Muntaqim (formerly Anthony Bottom) was 19 years old when he was arrested. He is a former member of the Black Panther Party and the Black Liberation Army and is one of the longest held political prisoners in the world. The new documentary, Jalil Muntaqim: Voice of Liberation,is a unique opportunity to visit and hear Jalils story.Jalil was born Oct. 18, 1951, in Oakland. His early years were spent in San Francisco. Jalil participated in NAACP youth organizing during the civil rights movement. In high school, he became a leading member of the Black Student Union, often touring in speak-outs.After the assassination of Dr. King, Jalil began to believe a more militant response to racism and injustice was necessary. He began to look to the Black Panther Party for Self-Defense for leadership and was recruited into the BPP by school friends who had since become Panthers.Two months shy of his 20th birthday, Jalil was captured along with Albert NuhWashington in a midnight shoot-out with San Francisco police. When Jalil was arrested, he was a high school graduate and employed as a social worker.While in San Quentin prison in 1976, Jalil launched the National Prisoners Campaign to Petition the United Nations to recognize the existence of political prisoners in the United States. Progressives nationwide joined this effort, and the petition was submitted in Geneva, Switzerland. This led to Lennox Hinds and the National Conference of Black Lawyers having the UN International Commission of Jurists tour U.S. prisons and speak with specific political prisoners. The International Commission of Jurists then reported that political prisoners did in fact exist in the United States.In 1997, Jalil initiated the Jericho Movement. Over 6,000 supporters gathered in the Jericho 98 march in Washington, D.C., and the Bay Area to demand amnesty for U.S. political prisoners on the basis of international law. The Jericho Amnesty Movement aims to gain the recognition by the U.S. government and the United Nations that political prisoners exist in this country and that on the basis of international law, they should be granted amnesty because of the political nature of their cases.Jalil has filed numerous lawsuits on behalf of prisoners. After many years of being denied the opportunity to attend college, Jalil graduated with a B.S. in psychology and a B.A. in sociology in 1994. During his imprisonment, Jalil has become a father and a grandfather. Jalil has worked as an educator of other inmates and practices organizing and advocacy whenever possible to ensure the most adequate, humane treatment for all people. He has been repeatedly punished for these activities, through physical abuse, formal discipline and numerous prison transfers. For more information about Jalil Muntaqim and his writings, visit www.kersplebedeb.com/mystuff/profiles/muntaqim.html and www.prisonactivist.org/pps+pows/jalilmuntaqim/.The documentary (VHS 20 minutes) was edited and produced by Eve Goldberg and Claude Marks in November 2002 and based on an interview done in August 2000 by John OReilly and Nina Dibner. It was produced by the Jericho Amnesty Movement and the Freedom Archives and is available for $20 plus $1.50 shipping ($2.50 outside the US). ? 2002 The Freedom Archives: 522 Valencia St., San Francisco CA 94110, (415) 863-9977, www.freedomarchives.org. The presentations cover three of the most complex topics:Japanese candle charting, point & figure charting and Elliott Wave Principle, all taught by practitioners. These areas seem to give candidates the most difficulty on the exams, so an hour with the experts should prove to be a valuable education. The presentations on equities, foreign exchange, commodities and currencies are taught by individuals whose careers are dedicated to analyzing these markets. Many CMT candidates only focus on one of these markets; these sessions are designed to get candidates up to speed on analyzing markets with which they may not be familiar.Altogether, these seven sessions are designed to give attendees insights into how technical analysis is applied in the real world. As well, these sessions are designed to be the perfect preparation for the essay questions on the CMT Level 3 exam which covers each of these areas. The insights of the practicing technicians who lead these sessions are representative of those insights required to pass the exams. These sessions were designed with CMT candidate feedback in mind. Often, candidates who spend their work day analyzing one market or primarily utilizing one technique, have a difficult time shifting gears to address all of the markets and techniques covered by the CMT Program. His soft, breathy sound could make even the most brash, up-tempo melody into sweet syrup. When he played the blues, whew! And his huge, sad, mournful eyes just oozed the blues he played. Jiri Barta: Labyrinth of Darkness. (1978). Color. 152 mins. Video Released Aug. 2006. Revered as one of the world's most significant figures in animation, Czech filmmaker Jiri Barta has made a career fashioning stunningly gothic worlds of horror and fantasy that are infused with sublime humor and intense moral examinations. Mixing the aesthetic traditions of such artists as Gaudi, Kafka, Poe, Fritz Lang, The Brothers Quay and Jan Svankmajer, Barta's films are wondrous creations that go far beyond mere children¿s tales. His early paper cut-out extravaganzas-Disc Jockey (1980) and The Design (1981)-give way to the object ballet of A Ballad about Green Wood (1983), in which logs celebrate the eternal renaissance of spring. Old mannequins spend their cracked and broken lives In the Club of the Laid Off (1989), and myriad styles of handwear spring to life as a brief history of international cinema in the award-winning The Vanished World of Gloves (1982). Barta's international reputation was cemented with The Pied Piper of Hamelin (1985), a very un-Disney adaptation of the classic German fairytale in which carved wooden puppets in a gothic cubist town are plagued by live rats. Considered one of the greatest works of puppet animation, it recalls the dark medieval epics of Ingmar Bergman. His only live action film, The Last Theft (1987), is a jewel thief/vampire flick shot in the style of 1970s European exploitation cinema. Kino on Video. DVD. (UPC: 6 9845220423 9) $24.95.

John Hus-DVD. Color. 55 mins. mins. Video Released Mar. 2004. SPECIAL FEATURES:-55-minute version in English, Spanish, Portuguese, and French, with or without English subtitles.-30-minute abridged version in English-Study materials in pdf format-Christian History magazine article on Hus, study guide pages from Reformation Overview.Here is an important chapter in the steps leading up to the Reformation. The history books make little mention of this Bohemian priest and scholar who lived 100 years before Martin Luther and the Protestant Reformation. Yet, John Hus was convinced and taught openly that the Bible should be presented in the language of the people, that salvation comes by faith in Jesus Christ, and the Word of God is the final authority. He taught in the University of Prague and as a pastor, challenged the abuses of medieval Christendom.Intrigue and false promises weave a powerful story of one man?s commitment to faith in Jesus Christ. He was summoned to the Council of Constance and promised safety, but he was betrayed. In the end, Hus was accused, imprisoned, and charged with heresy. Ultimately, he was condemned and burned at the stake as a heretic.ATRACCIONES ESPECIALES:-Version de 55 minutos en ingles, espa?ol, portugues, y frances, sin o con subtitulos en ingles.-Version abreviado de 30 minutos en ingles.-Materiales para el estudio en formato pdf - Articulo de Hus en la revista Christian History Magazine, paginas de la guia para el estudio de Reformation Overview.Aqui esta un capitulo importante en los pasos de progresion que conducen a la Reforma. Los libros de la historia dicen poco de este sacerdote y erudito bohemio que vivio 100 a?os antes de Martin Lutero y la Reforma Protestante. Convencido, Juan Hus insistio que la Biblia fuera presentada en el lenguaje de la gente, que la salvacion viene por fe en Jesus Cristo, y que la Palabra de Dios es la autoridad final. Ense?o en la universidad de Praga y como pastor reclamo los abusos de la cristiandad medieval.Intriga y las promesas falsas tejen una historia poderosa de un hombre y su fe en Jesus Cristo. Lo convocaronal Consejo de Constancia y le prometieron seguridad, pero lo traicionaron. En fin Hus fue acusado, encarcelado, y cargado con herejia. En ultimo lo condenaron y lo quemaron como hereje.
